Randi Friedland, Ph.D.
2810 E. Del Mar Blvd, Ste. 1 Pasadena, CA 91107	Phone: 626-356-0220
Biography: Our life experiences form us, teach us who we are and who others are, often in ways that cause pain and sadness and limit and impair us. I work with people to better understand how they came to think, feel and act as they do and to develop a kinder, more compassionate view of themselves so they can move forward, feel more at peace and accomplish what is important and meaningful to them in their relationships and at work. I consider it a privilege to be confided in, to give hope and to ease pain. I earned my Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology at UCLA, worked in community mental health centers for several years and have been in private practice for 32 years.

Biography: Thank you for reviewing my profile. I started my career working at a private psychiatric hospital and worked with many clients in extreme situations. It was during this time that I studied DBT as a new therapy to help troubled clients. I transitioned to the eating disorder unit and was eventually offered the directorship which I gladly accepted. I was able to build up a private practice in Pasadena and left the hospital a few years back in order to focus on my practice. I enjoy my work, and while I certainly am still challenged by my clients, it is always a joy to meet the challenge and help each other grow in the desired direction.
